Law360 (September 21, 2021, 11:58 AM EDT) -- Mound Cotton Wollan & Greengrass LLP expanded its Fort Lauderdale office this month with the addition of a litigation partner with a focus on insurance, malpractice defense and health law.

Wendy Stein Fulton moved over to Mound Cotton from Kiernan Trebach LLP, where she served as a partner and managed its Fort Lauderdale office. The firm announced the news on Sept. 9.

"Mound Cotton is highly regarded by the insurance industry as a talented and sophisticated team and I look forward to [contributing] to the Florida office's growth," Stein Fulton said in the announcement. "My experience is a great fit for the firm and I am excited for this next chapter of my career."

In her practice, Stein Fulton handles insurance coverage issues, commercial litigation, professional malpractice defense and health law. In particular, she has experience working on cases related to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act, the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, the Sherman Antitrust Act, the Lanham Act, the Copyright Act and the Racketeer Influenced Corrupt Organizations Act. She has also litigated multimillion-dollar coverage disputes involving primary, umbrella and excess policies.

Prior to her time at Kiernan Trebach, she worked as a shareholder at Keller Landsberg PA and as an attorney at Bunnell & Woulfe PA. She is also a certified instructor of adjuster law and policy courses for the Florida Department of Financial Services. Stein Fulton earned her bachelor's degree from the University of Georgia and her law degree from Florida State University.

"Wendy is a talented and highly regarded practitioner in the Florida Bar and has a deep understanding of the Florida insurance market," Bill Wilson, a partner at the firm that oversees the Florida office, said in a statement. "Her experience in commercial litigation and defending construction defect, environmental, legal malpractice and breach of contract claims adds valuable depth to our practice in Ft. Lauderdale. We are thrilled Wendy is joining us."

Mound Cotton employs around 100 attorneys across its six offices in New York City and Long Island, New York, Florham Park, New Jersey, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, Houston, Texas, and Emeryville, California. Five attorneys, including Stein Fulton, work out of the Fort Lauderdale office.
